Description

Alveus d.o.o. is a engineering and development company, providing solutions for ship and offshore design and marketing in the maritime industry. In addition, the company is specialised in design and application of composite materials in shipbuilding and for ship repair. We offer COMPA Repairs - composite repairs for ships using carbon-fibre reinforced epoxy. COMPA repair is a cost and time effective alternative to the traditional methods. COMPA minimizes vessel downtime and increases vessel safety by providing a fast and durable repair and eliminating the use of flame. It is applicable to geometrically complex structures and locations difficult to reach.
